

Covid-19 Positive Communication & Contact Tracing

*The CDC guidelines for determining close contacts are subject to change. They are typically based upon time spent in the presence of/distance from the positive person during the time the person was symptomatic or during a time period before the person tested positive.

These procedures allow for required notification while protecting the privacy of our staff and students.